SERVICE FOCUS: ALTERNATIVE REVENUE SOURCING

ALTERNATIVE REVENUE SOURCING:

Improves financial flexibility
by minimizing overreliance on restrictive federal funding

Provides new resources
at no cost through partnerships

Increases fiscal stability
by minimizing overreliance on federal funding

Demonstrates stewardship of public funds

Creates nonprofit entities that can solicit and accept funds from new sources

BRONNER HELPS IDENTIFY ALTERNATIVE REVENUE SOURCES

REPRESENTATIVE ALTERNATIVE REVENUE SOURCING ENGAGEMENTS:

Office of the Vermont State Auditor

BRONNER reviewed the State's current funding streams, conducted interviews, and researched emerging programs and funding sources. Potential non-traditional revenue sources were identified in a manner to educate and energize policymakers on next steps for securing them.

Illinois Department of Human Services and Chicago Housing Authority (CHA)

BRONNER assisted CHA Resident Services in coordinating interrelated programs and services with the Illinois Department of Human Services. The overall objective was to maximize resource-utilization, program effectiveness and customer impact.

Lucas Metropolitan Housing Authority

BRONNER identified a series of alternative revenue strategies and subsequently developed the internal governance structures to educate and empower staff to pursue alternative revenue opportunities.

SERVICE FOCUS: TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

BRONNER technology solutions adapt to fit the current and prospective needs of its clients. BRONNER solutions are designed to lead public sector organizations through all phases of technology adoption and integration – from critical strategy creation and planning through application development, implementation, and training. BRONNER’s technology project management and implementation experience combined with its deep expertise in the public sector provides the necessary methodologies and capabilities to help governments manage the ever-changing technological landscape while successfully and efficiently achieving their goals.

Technology Assessment and Planning

BRONNER examines client’s short and long-term needs and identifies existing and emerging technologies that will meet those needs.

Project Management and Staffing Support

BRONNER provides seasoned project managers to assist technology teams and provide them with the flexible support they need to take on complex challenges.

Adaptive Change Management

BRONNER provides guidance through difficult transitions by ensuring everyone involved understands the project objectives and has a stake in its success, with the overall goal to attain maximum value of new technologies and full adoption of effective solutions.

Business and Functional Analysis

BRONNER consultants and subject matter experts support technology deployments through comprehensive, integrated, and practical assessments that enhance system design and configuration, business and technology alignment, and user adoption.

Training Solutions

BRONNER designs training solutions to help users understand new systems based on an entity’s unique business processes, policies and procedures, management systems, and staff roles.

SERVICE FOCUS: BUSINESS CONTINUITY PLANNING

BUSINESS CONTINUITY MANAGEMENT

is the process by which an organization prepares for incidents or crises that could jeopardize the organization's short- and long-term ability to continue operations and meet stakeholder expectations. This process increases the organization's resiliency to respond to workforce, facility, and technology disruptions.

A BRONNER BUSINESS CONTINUITY PLAN WILL:

Identify

- Recovery priorities and interdependencies
- Procedures required to continue critical processes during a disruption
- Statutory and regulatory requirements
- Vital records and equipment

Provide

- Clear direction for recovery actions
- Plans for quickly reestablishing critical business operations
- An integrated approach for communication and support activities

BRONNER'S APPROACH

1

Discovery

- Current State Assessment
- Business Impact Analysis
- Assessment of gaps and risk(s)

2

Program Development

- Business Continuity Plan
- Governance Approach

3

Implementation

- Tests and Exercises
- Training and Awareness
- Plan Maintenance

REPRESENTATIVE BUSINESS CONTINUITY PLANNING ENGAGEMENT:

Santa Clara County Housing Authority

BRONNER conducted a Business Impact Analysis process to identify critical business processes as well as the applications, services, inter-agency dependencies, and vendors that supported those critical processes. The information was used to develop 18 Business Continuity Plans (BCP) for functional teams within the agency. The BCPs establish procedures to continue and/or recover the critical business processes in the event of a business disruption. Each BCP identifies the activities, resources, and procedures needed to carry out the critical business processes.
