GTY Technology budgeting unit, Questica, and Infor are bringing the best technology to the public sector

GTY Technology's budgeting business unit, Questica, has been helping public sector organizations to better enable data-driven budgeting for over 20 years.

Building on the partnership established between GTY Technology and Infor, Questica has combined our expertise in budgeting and transparency together with Infor's leadership in cloud software system deployment to support clients with successful digital transformation.

Questica Budget integrates directly with Infor Cloudsuite ERP and can empower your organization to successfully take charge of budget assembly, tracking, analysis and reporting.

Questica Performance allows users to leverage financial and statistical data already contained in Questica Budget to effectively measure organizational performance.

Questica OpenBook is a data visualization tool that increases transparency with stakeholders and citizens by allowing you to share the story of the budget with interactive visuals.

Questica's Budget Book powered by CaseWare saves countless hours of work by enabling users to create, collaborate, edit and publish a Budget Book that meets the standards for the GFOA Distinguished Budget Presentation Award.

Working together, Questica and Infor are bringing the best budgeting technology to the public sector to improve decision-making and drive better outcomes.
