Kelton

Reduce Organizational Risk, Maintain Compliance, and Maximize Efficiency

A fully automated and integrated platform for travel, expense, and invoice management can allow your government organization to reach its operational potential of government* financial decision makers say their organization struggles to remain compliant

73%

73%
of government* financial decision makers cite fraud, waste, and abuse as challenges their organizations are trying to solve

Replace outdated manual processes or legacy financial systems with a fully automated and integrated spend management solution

Nearly all (95%) government* financial decision makers who have made this switch say their organization has benefitted:

Increased efficiency in managing budget: 40%

Reduced actual instances of fraud, waste, and abuse: 38%

Reduced the potential for fraud, waste, and abuse: 38%

Fully automated financial systems streamline processing of expense reports and invoices, and can save your organization an average time savings of 3,000 hours per month

Learn more about how fully automated financial systems can benefit your government organization by downloading the eBook: How Automating Spend Management Helps States, Cities, and Counties Increase Compliance and Reduce Risk

*State, city, and local government

Study brought to you by SAP Concur